Turners' Picnic.

The picnic given by the South Side Turners yesterday afternoon and evening was well attended. The weather was somewhat threatening during the afternoon, but it cleared up finally. The picnic was over about 11 o'clock.

Transfers Recorded.

Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record a deed made July 7 by G. O. Smith and wife to C. K. Smith, in consideration of $700, for the south thirty-five feet of lot 4 in square 5 in Churchill's addition No. 2. Also a deed made June 6 by H. L. Schraeder and wife to Theodore Frederick, in consideration of $325, for the west half of lot 160 in division D of the last Caldwell addition.

Two Plain Cases.

In the police court yesterday morning Frank Williams, who refused to move on for Officer Moran was fined $1 and costs, which he paid. Frank Gannon, who was found at 8 o'clock yesterday morning lying in front of the Nail City Lantern Factory too drunk to move, but anchored to a heavy weight which some wag had tied to his coat, was assessed $2 and costs, which he did not have, and after he became sober enough he was sent to the jail.

Relics of the Battlefield.

Mr. Henry P. Mayer, the well known cigar maker, returned yesterday from New Market, Va., where he has been for two weeks strolling among the battlefields of that region. Mr. Mayer was wounded at the battle of New Market and was nursed at the home of Samuel Hashberger, on whose farm the celebrated battle was fought. Mr. Mayer visited the Hashberger homestead, but found the old folks had died and the sons scattered. One daughter still lives on the home farm and Mr. Mayer spent several days there. He has quite a lot of bullets picked up on the battlefield, among them a few poisoned bullets.

The Glendale Plans.

Mr. William Erskine, talking yesterday about Glendale, the suburban village below Benwood, said it was found that the original plan was defective. The lots were too small, and therefore the corporation was abandoned and the property conveyed in trust to Mr. Erskine, who will sell it in lots more suitable for suburban residences. The adornments and conveniences will be even finer than at first contemplated. The lots range from 100-foot frontage and a somewhat greater depth to somewhat over an acre. The Glendale Coal Company, recently chartered, adjoins it on the north. As soon as the plans are completed the lots will be put on the market.

A BIG FAIR PROMISED.

Prospects that the Eleventh Annual State Fair will be the Greatest on Record.

The State Fair, to be held September 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, this year, will unquestionably be the largest ever held. The Fair seems to become better and better, keeping pace with this progressive age, and the next one will be without a parallel in the association's history. Inquiries from all parts of the country are pouring in at the Secretary's office, and it will keep the management hustling to provide room for all who wish to participate in the grand exhibition.

Quite a number of the most noted prize winning herds of the United States, which have exhibited and won prizes at the greatest shows in the country, will be on hand. The sheep, swine and poultry departments will be filled to overflowing. One poultry breeder alone wants space for 500 specimens, his establishment being the largest in the United States. The West Virginia State Fair has built up an enviable reputation, having no superior in this country, and has been of great value in an advertising way for all who have had the good fortune to exhibit here. Some of last year's exhibitors sold out their whole exhibits after the fair, and can thank the West Virginia State Fair only as the instrument of causing such results.

Farmers should remember that this will be a golden opportunity for making choice selections, besides witnessing the entertaining and exciting races and balloon ascensions. The railroads will offer very low rates for the accommodation of all who wish to attend from a distance.

An Important Decision.

In the suit brought by the H. J. Heinz Co. against Lutz Bros. for an infringement of the labels used on Heinz's Keystone Brand preserves, fruit butters, etc., Judge Ewing of the Court of Common Pleas, Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, Pa., has rendered a decision ordering the defendants to refrain from the use of the instant label. Judge Ewing's decision sustains the report of the master made some time ago. During the year past Brookman & Co., of Philadelphia, have been restrained by the U. S. Court from using an imitation of H. J. Heinz Co.'s pickle label. The Goddard Pickle Co., of Omaha, Neb., have also been required to refrain from imitating the Heinz trade mark and label.

It is evident that this firm does not intend to trifle with imitators of its labels, bottles, etc.—Pittsburgh Press.

NEARLY A BAD COLLISION.

A B. & O. Engine Nearly Collides One of the Electric Cars.

At 2 p. m. yesterday an electrical car narrowly escaped being demolished by a B. & O. freight engine at Ford's crossing. The car was crowded with passengers, mostly ladies. The "safety" gates were not closed, as the ordinance requires, and the car stopped and the conductor ran ahead to look up and down the track to see if a train was approaching. He did not go far enough, however. He motioned to the operator to come ahead. Just as the car was one-third its length on the track a freight train came thundering down the track. The passengers, seeing the danger, began scrambling off, at imminent peril of life or limb. Women screamed, men shouted, and one of the lady passengers fainted. Fortunately the operator had presence of mind enough to throw his lever down back, and the car's motion was reversed, the car just clearing the track by a close shave as the freight passed.

A number of prominent gentlemen were aboard and they were all emphatic in condemning the carelessness which nearly caused an awful disaster.

The statement of Frank Lawn, the conductor of car A, does not agree with the stories of the passengers on whose statements the above article is based. Mr. Lawn told an INTELLIGENCER reporter that he makes it his invariable habit to get off the car while running railroad crossings, in plenty of time to see any train that may be coming along. Yesterday he jumped off the car and ran ahead to the south railway track, saw the freight train coming and signalled the operator to stop. The safety gates not being down, the operator apparently had not brought his car to a dead stop, but had allowed it to go close to the outer rail of the north track. Having the car under control he stopped it by jamming down the brake, just as the front of the car touched the outer rail of the north track, there being thus five feet space between the car and the freight train. Mr. Lawn says that he motioned to the operator to reverse the car, not on account of the freight train, which was on the other track, but in order to get out of the way of any trains that might be on the north track.

A FINE LIST.

The Attractions Booked at the Grand for the Coming Season.

Manager Genther is now remodeling the Grand, and it will be opened August 21 and 22 by Hicks & Sawyer's famous colored minstrels, which is said to be the largest and most extensive colored minstrel company now before the public. A long list of attractions is booked, which promise to be the best that have ever appeared at the Grand. The following are some of the companies: James Reilly in "The Broom-maker," new "Boy Tramp," Ada Melrose in "A Southern Rose," "Irish Corporal," "Cold Day" Company; "The Fairies Well," Arizona Joe in "Black Hawks," "Corner Grocery," "Dear Irish Boy," "Electric Spark," Frank I. Frayne, Jr., in "The Boy Ranger," "Peck's Bad Boy," Gowong Mohawk in "The Indian Mail Carrier," Burt Shepard's Minstrels; "Heart of New York," "O'Finn in Mexico," "Rocky Mountain Waltz," "Down on the Farm," "Black Throat," "New York Day by Day," May Henderson's Company and Indian Band; Frank Jones in "Country Cousin," Nelson's "World" Company; Henry Burlesque Company; "Daniel Boone," "Barrel of Money," "Joshua Simkins" Company, "Lost in New York," Melville Sisters; Wilbur Opera Company; Lester & Williams' Specialty Company; Floy Crowl; "Keep it Dark," "Cattle King," Beach & Bowers' Minstrels; Parisian Folly Company; "American Boy," Gray and Stephens, Gus Hill's company and "Uncle Hiram."

The prices will be as follows: Orchestra chairs, fifty cents; dress circle, thirty-five cents; gallery, twenty-five cents. The prices are about the same as last season, with the exception of the dress circle, which is thirty-five cents instead of twenty-five cents, as before.

The orchestra will be composed of seven pieces, led by Prof. James T. Lewis, formerly a teacher in the Conservatory College of Music, Chicago, Ill.

This is the fourth year of Manager Genther's career at the Grand, and it must be acknowledged by all that he has proven himself to be a first class theatrical manager. He looks for a prosperous season. Although he did not make a dollar last season, it is hoped he will meet with such encouragement in the future as to enable him to continue in its management.

THE REWARD DIVIDED.

The Three Persons who were Present when Mrs. Glessner's Body was Found Agree.

There has been some dispute as to the proper division of the money paid by Messrs. W. L. Glessner and George R. Taylor for the finding of Mrs. Glessner's body in the creek last Sunday. These gentlemen offered a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body. Thomas Clarke, Jr., first saw the body in the creek, but was not sure it was a body. The two boys, Charles Gillespie and Edward Fisher, came up before he was certain about it, and the three took an equal part in the actual recovery of the body.

Clarke thought the reward ought to belong to him, although he was willing to give a small sum to each boy. The boys maintained that they ought to have an equal share. So the matter stood until yesterday, when the three agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. After hearing all the statements, the three arbitrators decided that the money ought to be equally divided, and this decision was accepted all around.

A Great Success.

I do not know of a case that was lost during our epidemic of bloody flux, in this county where Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used. One of my friends, about six miles from here, had a child that was given up by the two doctors who attended it. He then used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the child recovered. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms. P. E. LAYENDER, P. M., Chestnut, Amberst Co., Va. For sale by C. R. Goette, W. W. Irwin, John Klari, C. Schnepp, C. Menkeniller, W. S. ## WHEELING INSTALMENT CO.

What we offer this week are goods of an "immediate need" character, entirely seasonable and withal indispensable. They may have met your eye at other places, but never has it rested on them at our prices, which are always the lowest and which will, this week, be on these "immediate need" goods lower than ever. We have Ice Chests at $6; we have them, in fact, at any price. Your attention, however, we would have especially directed to our large Solid Ash Ice Chests, guaranteed charcoal filled, for $9, worth $12. We cannot stop to talk about their worth; it's entirely foreign to our present considerations of how many of these goods we have and how long it will take to dispose of them. We have adopted the most expeditious plan by reducing prices. This same reduction applies to our entire line of Ice Chests and Refrigerators. In warm weather needfuls we offer four-gallon Water Coolers, that is the same Cooler that sells regularly at $3.50, for $2.25 each; three-gallon Water Cooler $1.75, former price $2.75; two-gallon Coolers 75c each.

In Baby Carriages we have an assortment hard to beat in Reed and Rattan Bodies, upholstered in all shades and qualities of upholstery goods, which we sell for cash or on credit.
